Emergency Preparedness & Response

The new Emergency Preparedness and Response (EPR) in Child Care Training provides early educators with information and tools to prepare for many types of emergencies. The EPR in Child Care Training addresses new NC Child Care Rules on emergency preparedness, current best practices, as well as recommendations, and guidance on completing the online EPR Plan. The EPR Plan template can be found on the North Carolina Emergency Management website. The training is presented in two two-hour sessions and includes a one-hour site assignment. NC Child Care Rules 10A NCAC 09 .0607 (b) and 10A NCAC 09 .01705 (b) (6) require that a designated individual from each licensed center and family child care home complete the training and submit a facility EPR Plan.

Self-Care & Stress Management

Often times as professionals, when we think of self-care and stress management we think about taking days off and saying no, but it is much more. Self-Care is any activity that preserves or improves your health. Stress Management consists of a wide spectrum of techniques aimed at controlling stress levels, usually for the purpose of improving everyday functioning. Engaging in Self-Care and Stress Management activities regularly helps you deal with the ins and outs of work regardless of how stressful the job.
